Memorial Day originated in the years following the Civil War which ended in the spring of 1865. That war claimed more lives than any conflict in U.S. history and required the establishment of the country's first national cemeteries. Memorial Day is a time to remember those who died in the service of our country. It can and should also be a day that we give honor and thanks to those who continue to volunteer in military service. I've never served in the military, but I'm proud to say that both of my younger sisters have.

Sermons about Memorial Day

Our sermon ideas for Memorial Day will help you preach a powerful message. Prepare your messages remembering the service and sacrifice of America's fallen heroes. This Memorial Day weekend, with sermon outlines or an entire sermon series, a litany for Memorial Day, Memorial Day originally commemorated soldiers killed in the American Civil War. 1868. Its observance later extended to all those from the United States who died in war.

As we observe Memorial Day, we remember the men and women who have sacrificed their lives that we might live in freedom. Memorial Day first known as Decoration Day originated in the North after the Civil War to commemorate fallen Union soldiers.

By the 20th century, the holiday had been extended to honor all Americans. Human life in community reflects a variety of rhythms which also affect Christian worship. Among these are the annual cycles of civic, agricultural, school, and business life, special times of family remembrance and celebration, and the patterns of a variety of cultural expressions, commemorations, and events.

Memorial Day history

The American tradition of Memorial Day began more than 100 years ago. It was at the end of a brutal war in which brother fought brother and the best of friends became the worst of enemies. It was the Civil War, one of the worst wars ever fought by the people of this nation and it was fought on our own soil.

On Memorial Day of last year, I found myself doing something which I had never done before. Indeed, something which at one time I could not even have conceived of doing—conducting a service of worship. Memorial Day has been largely abandoned to veterans' groups conducting military services in a few larger cemeteries.

On Memorial Day of last year, I found myself doing something which I had never done before. Indeed, something which at one time I could not even have conceived of doing—conducting a service of worship. Memorial Day has been largely abandoned to veterans' groups conducting military services in a few larger cemeteries. Memorial Day worship at All Saints Cemetery in Oceanside Monday May 28 2:00 p.m. All Saints Chapel and Cemetery is located near Heritage Park at 220 Peyri Road, Oceanside. Every Memorial Day, a worship service is held for families of those buried in the cemetery.
