The civilisations of Babylonia and Assyria flourished during the first millennium BC. Political developments resulted in the incorporation of the entire Near East into a single region.

Mesopotamia from the Greek meaning between two rivers' was an ancient region located in the eastern Mediterranean bounded in the northeast by the Zagros Mountains and in the southeast by the Arabian Plateau corresponding to today's Iraq mostly but also parts of modern day Iran, Syria and Turkey. The two rivers of the name referred to the Tigris and the Euphrates rivers and the land.
